Idaho's Governor.

Of its newly appointed Governor the Boise Statesman says:

John Hailley telegraphed from Washington Wednesday to Charles H. Hailley of this city, that Col. E. A. Stevenson had been appointed Governor of Idaho. The appointment, we believe, will meet with general satisfaction. It is the first appointment of a citizen of Idaho for governor. Col. Stevenson is an old resident of the Territory and thoroughly identified with the interests of the people, and has often been a member of the legislature, as well as having held several important county offices. His appointment is not fully tasteful to all the Democrats, but we believe the dissatisfaction comes from political family jars, and nothing against Col. Stevenson in point of ability, integrity or square dealing as a citizen, and so far as Republicans are concerned, while they have really no voice in the selection of Democratic officials, at the same time they are equally interested in seeing the places filled with good men, and in this appointment they will feel that the office will be filled by a competent, fair-minded man, who is ready and willing to do his duty fearlessly and independently of faction or through prejudices. There is no doubt but Col. Stevenson will be his own boss; he will not be conjoined or handled by cliques or rings in either party, and if we know the Colonel, and we ought to, it is safe to say that the pardoning power will be exercised very cautiously. Governor Stevenson is expected home within a week, and it is presumed that he will enter upon the duties of his office immediately.

FALSE PROPHETS.

On page three of last Saturday morning's edition, the San Francisco Chronicle prints an extended article on the standard silver dollar, which should be read by every one interested in the burning question thrust upon the country by the banking interest of the East. Its object is to illustrate how utterly untrustworthy are the assertions of the advocates of the single gold standard. No person, after studying the evidence presented, will for a moment believe that men who made such a dismal failure in the prophetic line in 1878, can be true prophets in 1885.

The article shows that the most prominent opponents of the remonetization of the silver dollar of 412½ grains made the following false predictions: They asserted that the passage of the Bland bill would injure the public credit and cause great loss to the Government by preventing refunding at a lower rate of interest than 6 per cent.; they declared that all the gold would be driven out of the country if the Bland bill passed; they iterated and reiterated the opinion that the Government could not by its fiat make a silver dollar, coined at a ratio of sixteen to one, circulate by the side of gold when the market ratio of bullion silver and gold was about eighteen to one, and they were sure that a great appreciation in prices would result from forcing what they persisted in terming a depreciated dollar on the people.

These were the predictions. And they were made by such men as Edmunds, Bayard, Blaine, Garfield, Hewitt, not to speak of a host of men who fill a smaller space in the public eye. The newspapers in the money centers, especially the great dailies of New York, repeated the predictions and warmed them over and over in leading editorials. And now, after nearly eight years of experience, we can see how far from the mark were these false prophets.

The entire debt since then has been refunded, much of it at a rate as low as 3 per cent.; there is twice as much gold in the country as there was when the Bland bill was under discussion; the silver dollar everywhere in the United States will buy as much of any commodity as a gold dollar, and prices are much lower than they were in 1878.

Under the circumstances the silver men are justified in calling the advocates of the single gold standard false prophets, whose predictions deserve no more consideration than the passing summer breeze.

There is now great complaint made at the abundance of five-dollar gold pieces. Silver dollars are given a rest for the time being, while the money cranks take a turn at gold. We have yet to find a man or woman who would refuse either a silver dollar or a five-dollar gold piece—in fact, like Oliver Twist, they cry for more and are never satisfied. The bankers are getting to be altogether too particular—money is money, whether silver or gold, and the banks ought to be made to realize the fact in its fullest sense.

The President has departed from the principle laid down in the democratic platform, requiring Territorial appointments to be made from residents of the Territory, because New Mexico and Arizona politicians are divided into so many petty factions that those who know the Territories well say it would be difficult for any administration to secure good government there by the appointment of residents.

The annual report of Warden Paul Shirley, of the California State Prison at San Quentin, has been prepared. It shows what has been accomplished in the five departments of industry. All were profitable. The total earnings of the prison amounted to $67,605 38, exclusive of $17,702 24, per diem paid to prisoners employed directly in the manufacturing departments, or over 26 per cent of the total earnings.

The President made the following appointments yesterday: To be receiver of public money, John W. Leigh, of California, at San Francisco; Postmasters, Daniel Stuart, at Walla Walla; W. T. vice Wm. Stern, commission expired and G. W. Jorres, at San Diego, Cal., vice G. D. Copeland, commission expired.

Secretary Whitney, it is said, intends his country place, five miles from Washington, for occasional visit rather than for residence, and the President will be likely to use this house as a spot where he can take brief rests from time to time.

President Cleveland received an elegantly framed photograph of Prince Bismarck. It was a present from Prince Bismarck himself and bore his autograph. It is probable that the President will return the compliment.

THE OHIO ELECTION.

To-day Ohio again speaks politically. One year ago she gave a majority for the Blaine electors. Two years ago the Democracy swept the State. Then Headly was the leader of the Democracy and Foraker of the Republicans, as they now are. Then both parties advocated tariff. Then the Prohibitionists were in the field. To-day apparently the fight is triangular with Rev. Leonard as the leader of the Prohibitionists, but as a matter of fact, he is only an ally to the Democracy. Early in the campaign he declared himself openly against Foraker, said he must be defeated, and has used his utmost endeavors to that end. His followings as in other campaigns, when the contest was close, are bolstered up by Democratic money. Two years ago, the Scott Law, which practically was high license, a Republican measure, was bitterly opposed by the Democracy and liquor interest. As a fact, that law put about two million dollars into the State and county treasuries. A Democratic Supreme Court pronounced the law unconstitutional. This took from the State annually two millions of revenue from the liquor traffic, which had to be raised from other sources. This reached the pocket of the moneyed classes of all parties, and had its influence. Besides the saloon men who had paid their taxes, brought suit to recover them back. This the Democratic Supreme Court said they could not do. This looked to the saloon men as if the Court was blowing hot and cold. This, with the character of the Democratic legislation for two years past, with Headly's mistake and the prestige of last year's victory, nearly assures the success of the Republican party. The contest has been more hotly engaged in than it would have been, because the next Legislature will elect a United States Senator to succeed John Sherman. Of course the Administration wants another Democratic Senator from Ohio and there are many Democrats there who want to be Senators. Headly has announced himself as a candidate for that position, and again accepted the nomination for Governor, thinking to make his election sure.

It is claimed that his enemies and rivals will throw their influence to defeat him, but all factions will put their shoulders together to secure the Legislature.

There is apparently no such combined efforts of the saloon men as there were two years ago. This makes the outlook much better for the election of a Republican Governor and both branches of the Legislature. The Democratic stronghold is in the large cities, where the grossest frauds have been committed in the past. The frauds have stood out boldest in Cincinnati. The system of registration that has been adopted for that city is claimed to be defective and open to abuse, and that false registration is being made by the wholesale. With a fair election, full vote, and honest count, Ohio is Republican, and we have faith that to-day she will give to the State a Republican Governor and a Republican majority in both Houses, which will insure to the Nation another able United States Senator to serve the next six years.

The Reorganization of the Civil-Service Commission.

Dr. Gregory, of the Civil-Service Commission, has had a long interview with the President by appointment. It is understood that the interview related to his resignation. He has contemplated retiring from the Commission for some months, but at the request of other members of the Commission has withheld his resignation until this time. It probably will soon be tendered, and the President of course will accept it. This of necessity makes a reorganization of the Commission necessary, as Judge Thoman, a Democrat, will be the only member left. Civil-service reformers await the reorganization of the Commission with much interest.

A Singular Coincidence.

George Washington Weaver, of Sandy Creek, Oswego county, is being tried at Oswego, New York, before a United States Commissioner on a charge of receiving a pension awarded to another man of the same name and same Post-office address. Both were soldiers and had made application for a pension. One served in Company G. Twenty-fourth New York Infantry, and the other in Company G. Twenty-fourth New York Cavalry. Both asked for a pension on the same ground—heart disease. The persons were not acquainted until after this complication arose.

No Luxuries Allowed.

First Auditor Chenoweth says that he has not yet concluded the consideration of expense accounts of the Civil Service Commission, but he had already made up his mind not to allow such items as "ginger ale," "lemonade," "newspapers," etc., under the head of necessary expenses.

Every representative man of the State should become a life member of the Agricultural Society.

NEVADA STATE LANDS.

The San Francisco Call says:

The experiment which the State of Nevada is now making in the sale of its public lands does not promise well. A great portion of the public land of the State has been practically reduced to private possession by the practice of cattlemen of taking up such tracts as contain water supply. Owing to the general aridity of the State, this prevents other settlers from locating in the immediate vicinity, and the fortunate owner of a spring, or of lands bordering a stream or lake, has the control of thousands of acres in the neighborhood. The State lands have to contend in the market with the railroad lands and the United States domain. The railroad company has made a new departure by laying off its property in ranges, each of which has its own water supply. This shuts off the practical grabbing of large tracts by the purchase of small ones containing water. The State land is not segregated from that of the United States until after sale, and a settler may make application either to the State or the United States. In the former case, the land is then confirmed to the State, whence the locator will draw title.

Recently the Board of Regents having control of the State lands doubled the price per acre of some of them, with the idea of making the sales more profitable to the State. The measure has called out much discussion from the local press, the weight of opinion inclining against it. It appeared to be unwise to put up the price in the face of competition from both the United States and the railroad, and a falling off of transactions was prophesied. Results thus far prove the correctness of this view. During the week ending October 2d, applications at the State Land Office aggregated only 840 acres, of which 580 were at the old rate of $1 25 an acre, and only 280 at the doubled price. During the same week of last month, prior to the order of the Board of Regents increasing the price, applications were made for 8,330 acres, a falling off of which seems to justify the criticism of the action of the Board.

Expecting Office.

A Washington dispatch of the 9th says: McSweeney, the suspect, left here to-day with his two oldest daughters, carrying a promise that he would be provided for in the San Francisco Custom House. He had sent his wife and twelve other children to San Francisco about a month ago and will make his home in that city. McSweeney is not in need, as many suppose, but is in very comfortable circumstances. He wants an official position only as a recognition of the service that he rendered in the last campaign on behalf of the Democratic party.

Hugh J. Mohan, who has been here for some time doing newspaper work and endeavoring to throw some light on the Chinese question called to-day with Rev. Eugene Pagani of Penn Yan, N. Y., on the President and was warmly received. Father Pagani was Mohan's teacher fifteen years ago. It is understood that Mr. Mohan will soon be provided for in a way that will be satisfactory to his California friends.

New York's Great Wealth.

The total equalized value of landed property in the State is $2,762,348,218; of real estate and personal property, $3,094,731,457. The equalized valuation last year was $3,014,591,372. Of the grand total New York county contributes $1,413,415,020, and of this some $1,231,910,489 is real estate. Kings county (Brooklyn) is assessed at $309,238,510, of which $296,386,890 is real estate. The only other county which is assessed for more than $100,000,000 is Erie, in which Buffalo is situated. It is put down at $108,198,880, of which $97,786,305 is real property.

The Old Man at the Helm Again.

Gladstone has openly assumed the direction of the Liberal campaign. He has already managed to settle the difficulties between Hartington, leader of the Whigs, and Chamberlain, leader of the Radicals. Lord Hartington became alarmed and threatened to withdraw from active management of the campaign unless Chamberlain was so far curbed as at least to not commit the whole Liberal party to his schemes of Radical reform.

A Deserved Compliment.

The Call says: Politics should have nothing to do with the judiciary, and it would be well for the judiciary to meddle as little as possible with politics. The recognition of this principle was illustrated by the union of the Democratic and Republican parties in the re-nomination of Chief Justice Joseph P. Barnard, in the second New York Judicial District. Judge Barnard has been on the bench some 20 years and it is a high compliment to his integrity that he is to be supported for another election by both the great parties of New York.

Last week a delegation waited on the President to ask the removal of Fred Douglass from the position of Register of Deeds in the District of Columbia. The usual arguments were made, and a candidate, a Virginian, was painted in high light. The President said: "You are convinced that Mr. Douglass should be removed?" Pleased at this evidence they responded "We are perfectly certain of it." "Well," said the President, "bring me the name of a colored man competent to fill this place and I will make a vacancy at once," and then came a silence in which a pin could have heard a house fall.

BOARD OF REGENTS.

The New University Building— Election of Mining Engineer—The Release of Watered Tracts to Stand.

The Enterprise of Sunday says:

The Board of Regents met at the State Capitol yesterday. Architect Curtis submitted a report showing the amount of work completed to date on the new University building at Reno. A number of bills were approved, and Secretary Noteware was instructed to notify the Commissioners of Washoe county that Controller Hallock had declined to draw any warrants against the appropriation for $10,000 passed by the Legislature at its last session in aid of the construction of the University building until he is officially notified that the provisions of the law have been complied with in respect to the payment by Washoe county to Elko county of $20,000. The Secretary was further instructed to inform the Washoe Commissioners that any further delay in the matter of the payment of this money would seriously embarrass the work of construction. The Board then proceeded to the election of an Assayer and Mining Engineer of the State University. Mr. Frank C. Fielding, of Virginia City, was thereupon elected, his compensation to be $250 per month, and his services to begin on November 19th. The election of a Principal of the Academic Department was postponed until the next meeting. Regent Rand offered the following:

It is ordered that the order made by the Board on the 7th day of September, 1885, fixing the price of lands granted by the United States to the State of Nevada, be and the same is hereby rescinded and repealed, and the price of such lands be fixed at the same rate that they were at the time said order was made.

After considerable discussion the foregoing motion was lost, Regent Rand voting aye and Regents Getchell and Shaw voting no.

The Alaska Judgeship.

The New York Post's Washington special says: Possibly there may be a curious sequel to the case of Judge Dawne's appointment to Alaska, with respects to whom the President some months ago wrote a letter that attracted so much attention. Arthur appointed to that position McAllister, who is said to be a Democrat whenever taking an active part in politics. It is learned that his removal was secured by the Presbyterian Mission Agency in Alaska, through agents here and by representations that he seemed hostile to the mission. Then came the appointment of Dawne, concededly an unit person, whose appointment has not been revoked. Judge McAllister's father, a society man in New York, has interested himself very actively in his son's behalf, and he has secured letters from August Belmont and other prominent Democrats urging his son to be restored to his office. At least one member of the Cabinet is very actively interested in McAllister's behalf.

The Woman's Art Association.

The Carson Appeal properly remarks: If any little band of plucky, determined women deserves success, it is the one which composes the Women's Art and Industrial Association of Nevada. When the Association was first formed it received very little encouragement, and not a little ungallant opposition. The members of the Legislature made fun of it, and refused to assist it with an appropriation. Headed by Mrs. Governor Adams, Mrs. Judge Leonard, Mrs. C. Noteware and others, the Association met and defeated every opposition, and made an exhibit at New Orleans. It was not only a successful, but a triumphant exhibit, and when the thing was over a good many who had opposed the Association began to be ashamed of themselves.

The society is now established, and will make an exhibit at the Reno Fair. It will be the New Orleans exhibit with additional, and will open the eyes of a good many people very wide. The next Legislature should recognize the skill and industrial aims of the society. If an appropriation bill comes before the body, the writer will agree to put in two hours a day lobbying for it, without remuneration.

Social Dances.

Mrs. Alt will hold a social dance at Armory Hall this evening, and also on Friday and Saturday evenings. She has kindly consented not to have one Wednesday night so that the Hose boys could get the hall ready for their ball Thursday evening. The admission will be fifty cents as usual, and those who attend will be assured a pleasant time. Commence Fair week by going to Armory Hall this evening.

The five minute service for children announced last week by Rev. Mr. Rat-tray, of the Baptist Church, proved to be unusually interesting and attractive to the little ones Sunday morning. His use of the magnet conveyed to them and impressed upon their young minds, a great and important truth in a very simple manner. They were all much pleased, and promised to attend next Sunday morning to hear another five minutes sermon on "Lessons to Little Ones, from Sticks."

The Cheyenne Northwestern Stock Journal, of last week, says:

John Tinnin, of Nevada, was in town the fore part of the week. The large shipment of Nevada cattle his firm sent to Chicago brought very good prices, but the long haul runs up a heavy expense account. Mr. Tinnin is satisfied with the result.

Dan G. Waldron is representing the San Francisco Wasp and Breeder and Sportman.

An Item of Interest to Medical Men.

During the trial of John Hart at Reno for the killing of Charles S. Maltby, Dr. A. Dawson was placed upon the stand by the State to prove the character and extent of the wound inflicted on Maltby's head, and on cross-examination in regard to the operation of trepanning gave the interesting statistical information that the result of the operation has been far more disastrous in France than in England, Germany or the United States, and the latter countries following in the order named.

The Virginia Chronicle says that after the doctor explained that the danger in the operation was the great probability of cutting the membrane covering of the brain substance, owing to the irregularity in the thickness of the skull, it became quite apparent where the term "Crazy Frenchman" came in, it following, as a matter of course, that France having as good physicians as any of the other countries named, it must have been the most irregular subjects to operate upon.

President Cleveland has been exceedingly fortunate in the matter of health since he has been the occupant of the White House. He has not yet had occasion to call in a physician.

Senator Briggs, of White Pine county, is taking in the Fair.

THE STATE FAIR.

A Success Assured—Fine Weather
Good Attendance.

EXCELLENT RACING—LARGE RECEIPTS.

The Fair will prove an immense success and the clouds of anxiety have been dispelled by the auspicious opening. The receipts yesterday were nearly $2,500. The stock exhibited at the Fair Grounds via with the best of other States. The racing was splendid. The Pavilion is very attractive. Carr's band charms with choice selections of music. The weather is all that can be desired, and the remaining five days will be "stays."

The attendance at the track yesterday was very fair for the first day. President Stevenson acted as Presiding Judge, with Directors Powning and Leete as Assistants. W. R. Chamberlain and Director White were Trainers, and Director Longly officiated as Starter.

The first race was the three-quarter dash between Plato, Question and Conquest, and to the surprise of the knowing ones was won by Plato in 1:18½, the first quarter being made in .31 and the second in .52. In the pools Question was the favorite, Conquest second.

The Silver State Stake of a mile and a half was galloped for by Winters' Question for the forfeits.

The next race was a mile and repeat between Lynch's Tom Atchison and Dyson's Edie Clark, and was won by the former in two straight heats, and both in the same time of 1:47½. The Hooker gelding repeated first-rate.

The Reno Stake was a splendid contest between Winters' Miss Courtney and Lynch's Moonlight, and the five furlongs were made in the good time of 1:03 by Miss Courtney, Moonlight a neck behind.

To-day's sport will be magnificent, and comprises the 2:50 class in which four horses will start, a mile and repeat running race for district horses, and the pacing race. A great deal of money will change hands on these races.

The receipts of the State Fair for yesterday amounted to $2,389. This is a splendid showing for the first day.

To-day will be a big day—stock parade, shooting tournament, pacing race, the 2:50 class, and a mile and repeat running race.

SILVER GLANCE MINING DIST.,
DOUGLAS COUNTY, Nev.,
Oct. 7, 1885.

EDITOR RENO JOURNAL:—From a quite thorough inspection of this mining district I have found developments that fully convince me of the existence of several paying gold and silver bearing lodes. Among them, and the most prominent, are those owned and at present being worked by Messrs. Willard & McDonald. These gentlemen located their claims some four years ago, since which time they have mined and milled something like four hundred tons of ore, yielding in the aggregate over ten thousand dollars, the ore averaging over $27 per ton. Coming into this district as they did without a dollar, without any knowledge of the character of the ores they were to encounter, with no roads in the district, or facilities of any kind to aid them, they at once commenced to develop the Orphans' mine, and to-day have a ledge exposed for over one thousand feet on the surface and to the depth of one hundred and seventy-five feet, at this point they find their richest ore, working by common wet mill process over $100 per ton. It is proper to state here that with a hand mortar they produced $920 from less than one thousand pounds of ore. After their hand-power experience they put up a horse-power, running two stamps of 150 pounds each, amalgamating in the battery and on silver plates. This soon became insufficient for the yield of their mine, when they converted the same into a water-power mill, using a 20-foot overshot wheel, the water coming from a creek in the adjoining hills about five miles from the mine. The capacity of this mill is about two and one-half tons per day. Only one man is employed steadily outside of the owners, although in the winter season some extra force has been found to be of great advantage in the long tunnel they are now driving, the present length of which, through hard blasting rock, is 360 feet; 20 feet more will strike the ledge when the expense of hauling the ore both through the mine and to the mill will be reduced fully one-half. On the 1,000 feet exposed of the ledge fine shafts, varying in depth from 75 to 175 feet have been sunk, with drifts amounting to 440 feet. While the general character of the ore of this ledge is gold, ore carrying $157 43 in silver and $15 05 in gold has been found in a vein ranging from 21 inches to 2 feet in thickness. With these minerals is found copper and galena. With this and other encouraging outlooks I look for a good future for this camp.

TRAVELING PROSPECTOR.

Licensed Drummers.

State Controller Hallock has issued for the benefit of all business men and the public generally a printed circular giving a list of sixty-nine names of all persons and firms who have paid for and procured drummers' licenses as provided by law, and who are authorized to do business in this State through soliciting agents or drummers. Under the Statutes of 1885, page 36, every drummer must be the bearer of the license of the person or firm which he represents, and for doing business without such license he is subject to fine and imprisonment, and it is made the duty of every Justice of the Peace, Constable, Sheriff and all other peace officers to enforce the law. Drummers are duly warned, and will have to show a straight record in this matter.

Good Appointment.

The Enterprise says: "At the last meeting of the Board of Regents of the Nevada State University held in Carson, Frank E. Fielding was chosen Professor of the Chemistry and Mining Department of the University. Mr. Fielding is head assayer at the Consolidated California and Virginia assay office, in this city, and has had extensive experience in that line during the last seven years in California and this State. He is eminently qualified for the responsible position to which he has been appointed."

Reading the Law.

Sheriff Emmett went around yesterday and read the law regarding boys under twenty-one years of age, to the proprietors of all the saloons. It is hoped that the saloon keepers will assist the officers in enforcing this law as it looks very bad for our town to see the various saloons with boys from fourteen to eighteen years old in them nightly playing pool or billiards or betting on the numerous games to be found there, and more particularly during Fair week.

Sureties Sued.

A suit has been commenced against the bondsmen of John A. Mahanny, who was County Clerk of Storey county in 1881, for the recovery of $400, alleged to be due the estate of William Monahan, deceased, which was paid to Mahanny and by him converted to his own use.

Welcome to Reno.

The Carson Appeal says nearly all the people of Carson are coming to the Fair, and there will also be a good many exhibits from there.

Stock for the Fair.

The Lyon County Times says: "The Vail Bros., of this county, have concluded to send some of their fine stock to the State Fair at Reno, and they will pass through on the train to-night. Four Galloway bulls will be taken, also two Red Polle, 'Pinto Chief,' a young bull, and 'Mable,' a young heifer. All of these cattle are thoroughbreds, and are as fine cattle as can be found in this State, or on the coast. The Vails will also exhibit two magnificent thoroughbred English staghounds, one Mastiff bitch, and a coop of Pekin ducks. This will make a fine exhibit for this county, and it is safe to say that there cannot be a finer carload of blooded animals picked up in Nevada."

Suspended.

Work has been suspended at Stevenson's concentration works in connection with the Willow Creek or old Morgan mine, just below Washoe City. The suspension is probably of a temporary character, pending the ascertaining of the result and returns of concentrations shipped. These works were erected at considerable expense by way of experiment in the working of an argentiferous galena mine, which all have failed in heretofore. It certainly is to be hoped that a success may be made of it yet.

Electric Light for Truckee.

The Truckee Republican says: Mr. L. P. Martin, who has charge of the store of Hall, Luhrs & Co., is making a determined effort to have the electric light introduced in Truckee. He should receive every possible encouragement and assistance in the enterprise. Towns of the size of Truckee can be illuminated by electricity at a good round profit, both to owners of the plant, and to the consumers. A number of houses in Truckee burn lamps all night long, and the expense, at present, nearly or quite equals that of the electric light. The difference in the power of the present light and the electric light can hardly be compared, and if one place of business adopted the latter, all other business houses would be compelled to do the same. The factory of the Truckee Lumber Company should be lighted by electricity, and also the various mills and lumber yards in this vicinity. Power could be obtained from the Truckee river at a nominal expense, or steam could be used at a small cost for fuel. Mr. Martin proposes to organize a joint stock company, or if parties prefer to take lights at so much per week, he will furnish the requisite capital to secure the plant. The town is to be congratulated upon the fact that so zealous and enterprising a man as Mr. Martin has taken hold of this matter. Truckee ought to be lighted by electricity and it looks as if the time is not far distant when it will be.
